ABOUT THE INSTITUTE

“Mohima tabo udvashito moha gagano majhe

Biswa jagato moni bhusan bestito charane”

-Rabindranath Thakur

The above mentioned segment is the most felicitous one to depict the illuminating charisma of Indian Institute of Legal Studies, an elite institution bestowing wisdom amongst its disciples which is an epitome of torch-bearing the heavy responsibility of architecting the spine of the future. Amidst the spectacular beauty and serenity of the hills and tea-gardens, the institution is shining alike the morning sun and spreading its spectrum to every nook and corner of the country.

Students from different states even from different neighboring countries are attracted towards the institution owing to its practical approach in legal education. In a very small span of time the institution has attained a remarkable height. The institution is expanding its horizon by conducting National and International level programs. Students are being sheened and well-mentored by the teachers under the aegis of the Chairman of the institution, Shri Joyjit Choudhury. The institution believes in sturdy discipline and rules to be complied by the students. The teachers are highly qualified and experienced and the classrooms are well-equipped with latest technology. There is a spacious library with abundance of rich books which is helpful both for the teachers and the students. The beauteous campus of the institution with a marvelous garden is an extra achievement for the students.

IILS is the just example of the phrase “unity in diversity”, different cultures and languages are harmoniously juxtaposing here. The righteous bewielding of the authority is working like a compass which is showing the accurate path towards a brighter future. As a result, the passed out students are doing great in legal sector.

The institution also serves the society through social works by way of providing free legal-aid camps, by organizing lok adalats and by adopting villages to make them litigation free. The students of IILS take active part in these social works. The institution takes extra effort for overall development of the students by regularly conducting seminars, symposiums, special lectures, mock parliament and moot court competitions. Hon’ble judges from High Courts and Supreme Court and high ranking officials keep visiting the campus to share their profound and vast knowledge on the respective subjects. Our approach as an institution is not to make lawyers but leaders for the country and the world.

According to C.S. Lewis, “The task of the modern educator is not to cut down the jungles, but to irrigate deserts” and IILS is not only irrigating the deserts of student’s mind but creating a whole new oasis.

MESSAGE FROM THE PRINCIPAL

The process of becoming a perfect advocate is a career-long journey that begins in law schools. Legal-writings which culminate in writing a moot court brief and conducting moot court oral arguments, teach students to think like lawyers, a skill fundamental to practicing law and a necessary attribute to the good administration of justice. The thought process requires law students to read and write in a new language, the language of the law. Speaking and writing in legal jargon, thinking like a lawyer, involves understanding how asking and answering questions can address and resolve uncertainties and ambiguities. Moot court teaches students advocacy skills to solve legal problems and enhances the three most important skills: starting an argument with a conclusion, differentiating fact from opinion and organising a legal argument by an 'Issue' rather than by a chronological narrative of the facts. Moot court also teaches students professionalism and ethics, how to apply law(s) to fact(s), how to structure and rank a legal argument by strength and not to assert, losing propositions. By giving law students opportunities to improve their legal writings, legal researches and oral advocacy in a competitive environment prepares students for a competitive world. It is, perhaps, the most significant activity that develops all the said skills every lawyer needs to possess i.e. Advocacy colloquially.

The Indian Institute of Legal Studies has been rigorously ensuring that the law students get ample exposure in moot courting at the class rooms as also outdoors by organising Moot Court Competitions, and attain all the Advocacy skills with the requisite character as a lawyer. Following the same, the Institute sets out to organise the 3rd IILS National Moot Court Competition from 14th to 16th APRIL, 2017. I wish the organisers and the participants a brilliant success.

STATEMENT OF PROBLEM

The Free State of Bravos constitutes the largest democracy in the world. The Free State of Bravos shares its boundaries with seven other democracies having amiable and strong trade relations amongst them. However, Bravos shares an unpleasant relation with the neighbouring State of Westeros, on account of continued turbulences, caused by various terrorist groups, financially supported by the stratocracy of Westeros. Evidently, the Government of Westeros indulged in the creation of an environment of hostility amongst the people residing in the bordering regions of Bravos by circulating fake currency notes amongst those people, instigating them to promote internal disturbance. The polity of the Free State of Bravos was largely dominated by the Left leaning political party, The Dothraki Dal, for almost six decades. In the year 2014, the State witnessed an era of revolution, fostering in, for the very first time, a Right leaning political party, The Free Folk of Bravos, which swept the legislative assembly elections with an unimpeded majority. The nation looked upto this political party with a hope that it will rejuvenate the dampened fire of the Free State by eradicating corruption, the nation's oldest and most menacing dread. The citizens drew a lot of inspiration from the current Prime Minister, Mr. Frank Underwood, a well recognised World Leader.

Mr. Underwood started taking necessary steps to eradicate the problems of the nation from the very inception of his administration. The Prime Minister aimed at making the Free State of Bravos a Super-Power. Subsequently, the Prime Minister emphasized on strengthening the political and economic relations of the nation with the other states. After a proper analysis, and profound deliberation, the Underwood administration came to a conclusion that the goal of eradication of corruption can only be achieved by severing its roots which are dug deep inside the nation itself. Finally, on October 20, 2016, after two years of successful and efficient administration, Underwood came up with a strategy to tackle both corruption and terrorism with a single blow by the way of demonetization. This scheme of demonetization was given effect by ceasing the usage of all ₹500 and ₹1000 currency notes as a form of valid legal tender. It was officially declared that the citizens may exchange their ₹500 and ₹1000 currency notes with currency notes of smaller denominations which would continue to serve as valid legal tender, through any nationalized bank or any equivalent financial institution within December 31, 2016. In the meanwhile, the Government shall circulate newly minted currency notes of higher denominations which would also serve as valid legal tender. The said strategy in the first case, targeted the unaccounted money in possession of the tax-evading citizens. Formidably, this move would also render the fake currencies obsolete which sponsored terrorism.

However, the surprise move of the Government to demonetize currency notes of ₹ 500 and ₹ 1000 led to a situation of hue and cry as it caused large scale mayhem and life threatening difficulties to the citizens. Mr. William Conway, a public spirited Advocate stated that “The decision of the government has adversely affected 1.25 Billion citizens who are clueless about running their day-to-day life till the period during which the transition from specified bank notes to new bank notes takes place. People are standing in long queues outside banks or ATMs for the entire day or subsequent days, affecting their work or trade, to obtain legitimate currency notes. There are still many who are unable to withdraw or obtain legitimate currency. The whole situation is pressurizing the banking industry, financial institutions and the common mass.” Hence, he brought a PIL against the action of the Government challenging its constitutional validity as it resulted in the infringement of right to life, trade, livelihood, existence, business, education etc.

The Constitution and laws of India are mutatis mutandis applicable to the Free State of Bravos.
